Students can choose whether to receive an ungraded or graded certificate of attendance.

Requirements for credit: regular attendance and active participation, written exam(s) - (6 or 12 ECTS).

The Department for German Language and Culture (Max-Weber-Haus) at the International Study Center offers language courses in the basic (beginners, A1/A2), intermediate (good basic knowledge of German, B1/B2), upper (advanced knowledge of German, C1) and very advanced levels (C2, post DSH/Testdaf).

All courses contain exercises dealing with German grammar, conversation, reading and writing, listening comprehension, lexis, phonetics, regional and cultural studies and information about studying in Heidelberg.

Before the beginning of the courses students take a placement test in order to determine which course level they will be placed in.

Information on respective text books and other course material will be available at the beginning of each course. Advanced level students (C1) have the opportunity to take the DSH at the end of the semester (Deutsche Sprachprüfung für den Hochschulzugang = German language exam for University admission).

„Studienbegleitende Fachsprachenkurse“ - Subject-related Course

The following courses are for students with advanced knowledge in the German language only. The language requirement for each course is mentioned in the overview under the heading “prerequisite”.

Literature Course „Literaturkurs“

Rainer Christ

Prerequisite: Language Level – Intermediate 2 (B2) or Advanced (C1)

Date and time: Tuesday / Thursday 06:15 – 07:45 p.m. (4 SWS)

Requirements: regular attendance and active participation: 4 ECTS, special proof of performance (presentation/term paper): graded certificate, 8 ECTS.

This four-hour literature course offers foreign students of all majors the opportunity to get to know important German literary texts. In each class students will deal with short passages from the novel chosen for the semester. The students will first discuss the grammar and vocabulary to ensure a fair understanding of the text in order to prepare a discussion of its context and themes. Analyzing the short passages will allow students to understand and interpret the text as a whole from a literary perspective. They will also deal with the historical context and setting in order to practice a methodical analysis of the text.

German for Law Students „Deutsch für Jura-Studierende“ Stefan Bornecke & Imran Gürel

Prerequisite: Language Level - Intermediate 2 (B2)
Date and time: Tuesday / Thursday 06:15 – 07:45 p.m. (4 SWS)
Requirements: regular attendance and active participation, written final exam (8 ECTS).

In this course students will improve their German language while focusing on legal terminology.

The course is based around the subject matter dealt with in the final examinations for international law students (ERASMUS, LL.M. or doctorate) such as the basics in German private, public and economic law as well as European law. The course will also provide an introduction to legal methodology and exam writing techniques.

Creative Writing 1 „Kreatives Schreiben 1“

Martin Grzimek

Prerequisite: Language Level - Intermediate 1 (B1)
Date and time: Monday 09:00 – 12:30 a.m. (4 SWS)
Requirements: regular attendance and active participation (8 ECTS).

In the course "Creative Writing 1" we will read simple texts - for example short stories, poems about nature, texts with pictures. But the focus is on producing our own texts: The description of an object, a situation, an action, an experience, a beautiful memory. We want to play with words and learn to describe our own feelings. If the right word for a thing or feeling is missing, we will look for it together. In the course, all "creative" texts are also read out and discussed. The course "Creative Writing 1" is not about assessment for "correct" German - it is about the commitment of the participants.

There are three rules for successful participation in the course:

1. continuous attendance;
2. participation in the course lessons;
3. send all assignments in writing by e-mail to the course instructor.

The two main objectives of the course are:

1. learning and writing - not because you have to, but because you enjoy it;
2. to lose the fear of the foreign language!

Creative Writing 2 „Kreatives Schreiben 2“

Martin Grzimek

Prerequisite: Language Level - Intermediate 2 (B2) or Advanced (C1)
Date and time: Monday 01:15 – 04:30 p.m. (4 SWS)
Requirements: regular attendance and active participation (8 ECTS).

“Creativity and discipline” go together like “fun and work” or “fantasy and logic”.

You cannot have one without the other. This is why students should not only learn to use language, but also learn to play with words and shape and mold them into unique expressions. Narration, writing poetry and reporting – these different forms of expression not only have a long tradition, they are also tools to experience and comprehend the world. In the center stands the individual who is able to express his feelings, emotions, sensual impressions, dreams, fantasies and ideas in a foreign language. The goal of the course “Creative Writing” is to practice these abilities. Students will develop greater self-confidence and sensibility towards those around them as well as their surroundings, including the creative potential of language.

German for Medicine and Biology „Fachspracher Medizin / Biologie“Bettina Bosler

Prerequisite: Language Level - Intermediate 2 (B2)
Date and time: Thursday 02:45 – 04:15 p.m. (2 SWS)
Requirements: regular attendance and active participation, written exam(s) (4 ECTS).

In the course, technical vocabulary, grammar and typical phrases of German scientific language are acquired with the help of texts and visual material. The examination of different technical communication situations is also part of the course. The course program is complemented by short film and audio clips.

In addition to the technical content, the focus is on the active acquisition of technical language, in written and/or spoken form, depending on the area of application.

Topics include: Anamnesis, biological structures, doctor's letter, molecular biology and others.

German for Business „Fachsprache Wirtschaft“Rainer Ruhm

Prerequisite: Language Level – Advanced (C1, B2 upon consultation with instructor)
Date and time: Tuesday / Thursday 03:30 – 05:00 p.m. (4 SWS)
Requirements: regular attendance and active participation, written final exam (8 ECTS).

This course is intended for foreign students who wish to gain knowledge of economic terminology. Through the use of economic-related texts and articles from newspapers and magazines students will learn basic economic terminology, work with theoretical concepts and discuss current economic problems. Students will improve their linguistic abilities relevant to economic terminology as well as practise skills such as text analysis, listening comprehension, verbalisation of graphs/diagrams etc. while dealing with themes such as globalization, the environment and social market economics (among others).

Experience German history – with city excursions
„Deutsche Geschichte erleben“*Verena Zimmer

Prerequisite: Language Level - Intermediate 2 (B2, B1 with availability)
Date and time: Tuesday 03:30 – 05:00 p.m. (2 SWS)
Requirements: regular attendance and active participation, written final exam (4 ECTS).

Alemania, Niemcy, Tyskland, Germany - many names for one country. The history of Germany is a grand narrative of diversity and change. For centuries, the question has been asked again and again: Where is Germany? What is Germany?

So let's go on an exciting journey from antiquity to the present and try to find suitable answers! In doing so, we will experience Germany in its contrasts: the land of a thousand castles, of poets and thinkers, of reformers and ingenious inventors - but also of the greatest horror in human history.

But we don't just talk about emperors, war and the church. German traditions and everyday history also have their place in this course. In addition, we will be "on the road" a few times and trace German history live during walks through the old town of Heidelberg.

A tour across German History
„Streifzüge durch die deutsche Geschichte“

Kristian Willenbacher

Prerequisite: Language Level - Intermediate 2 (B2, B1 with availability)
Date and time: Tuesday 05:00 – 06:30 p.m. (2 SWS)
Requirements: regular attendance and active participation, written final exam (4 ECTS).

Germans are said to be orderly and punctual. Is that really true, and, if so, why? And, besides, what is German history? When does it start? 2,000 years ago, in clashes with the Romans? Or 1.200 years ago with Charlemagne? Or perhaps 500 years ago with Martin Luther? Or maybe even as late as in 1871, when the German Empire was founded by Prussian statesman Otto von Bismarck. And what was the impact that the two World Wars and Adolf Hitler had on this country in the middle of Europe? So many questions. And we will be striving to answer them as well as possible.

This seminar is to be rounded off with a visit at the Friedrich Ebert Memorial. After all, in 1871 the first President of the Weimar Republic, in office from 1919 to 1925, was born right there, in Heidelberg's Old Town.

German in Film „Deutsch in Filmen“

Joachim Bürkert

Focus: The First World War in Film
Prerequisite: Language Level - Intermediate 2 (B2) or Advanced (C1)
Date and time: Thursday 01:45 – 05:00 p.m. (4 SWS)
Requirements: regular attendance and active participation, after presentation or written exam at the end of the semester with grade (8 ECTS).

For the purpose of improving your language skills, we deal with German films in this course. Films provide a diverse and fascinating access to the world of another language and culture. Not only do they present the language in its everyday use, but also convey information about the country and its people, about social reality and history – in a certain way they are a window to this other world. In addition, watching good films is also enjoyable, exciting and makes for interesting conversations.

Focus: The First World War in film

The memory of the First World War (1914 – 1918) still holds lessons, above all the importance of peace and the dangers of nationalism.

We will look at and discuss how films deal with the "great seminal catastrophe" of the 20th century and what perspectives they open up for us. The seminar program includes classic movies such as "All Quiet on the Western Front", Lewis Milestone's 1930 film adaptation of Erich Maria Remarque's 1928 novel of the same name, as well as more recent works such as "Frantz" (2016) by François Ozon. The students also have the task of selecting a film about the First World War themselves and presenting it in the course.

Introduction to Philosophy „Einführung Philosophie“Karlheinz Hinfurter

Prerequisite: Language Level - Intermediate 1 (B1)
Date and time: Tuesday / Thursday 02:00 – 03:30 p.m. (4 SWS)
Requirements: regular attendance and active participation, term paper (8 ECTS).

This four-hours course reaches out to students of all majors who would like to read the most important texts of German Philosophy in their original language. The course intends to provide students with the necessary methodological skills.

Given the difficulty of German philosophical texts, regarding both the contents as well as the language used, each class-meeting will focus on a short paragraph of text only. Students will first discuss the linguistic difficulties, and then analyze the meaning of the provided text. Grasping all aspects of a text will also enable the course participants to express their insights both orally and in writing.

The texts which are read during the course will be set in a historical context and students will try to trace some samples in German Literature or Jurisprudence.

Visual Arts and Language „Bildende Kunst und Sprache“Dr. Annette Frattini

Prerequisite: Language Level - Intermediate 1 (B1)
Date and time: Friday 01:30 – 03:00 p.m. (2 SWS)
Requirements: regular attendance and active participation, certificate after written final exam (4 ECTS).

Learning to understand works of art

This course is designed to build literacy in the areas of art and art history. Discussing art from a variety of genres (painting, photography, sculpture, installation, etc.), students will build the vocabulary required to describe, decode, and discuss the complex “language” of artistic creation, both orally and in writing.

Visits to exhibitions and collections in and around Heidelberg will enable students to work in front of originals.

The Political System of GermanyDr. Martin Kley*“Das Politische System Deutschlands”

Prerequisite: Language Level - Intermediate 2 (B2)
Date and time: Tuesday / Thursday 01:00 – 02:30 p.m. (4 SWS)
Requirements: regular attendance and active participation, written final exam (8 ECTS).

This course introduces students to the basic tenets of Germany’s political system and is intended for students wishing to expand their knowledge in the discipline and language of political science. Areas of emphasis will be vocabulary work as well as discussions and role-playing about specific issues. In terms of content, we will be addressing the fundamentals of the German constitution (parliamentary democracy, rule of law, federalism, social welfare), the interaction of political institutions and actors (e.g. political parties) and select policy fields (e.g. environmental policy). We will also address current events, such as upcoming elections.
